

ADVANCED APPLICATIONS OF MR-GUIDED RADIOTHERAPY

Please join ViewRay and leading oncologists from around the world for the Advanced Applications of MR-Guided Radiotherapy Symposium.

The symposium will highlight a full spectrum of MR image-guided radiation therapy topics including novel technical advancements, new system considerations, as well as commissioning and quality assurance protocols. Additional presentations aim to share practical clinical knowledge, including discussions on clinical applications and early outcomes data. Other talks will focus on clinical experiences and best practices using MR image-guided on-table adaptive radiotherapy.

The symposium will conclude with a tour of the MR-guided system at VU University Medical Center in Amsterdam. A reception will follow the tour and will offer additional opportunities for education and networking.
